Notable among the captured positions are the Avocourt wood, two summits of Le Mort Homme, the Corbeaux wood and Champneuville, all of which were held, notwithstanding vicious counter-attacks by the Germans, which were broken up by the French fire with heavy casualties to the enemy. French airmen materially aided the infantry in the press forward, swooping low over the German forces and emptying their machine guns into the ranks, and in fights in the air with German protecting machines eleven.

CHANGE WESTERN TRAIN SERVICE. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Aug. 20.—Cuts announced last week by the Union Pacific Railroad in passenger-train service do not apply west of North Platte, Neb., company officials said today. Published reports were to the effect that a number of trains operating through to the Pacific Coast would be eliminated.

These reports, it was emphasized by officials today, were incorrect. The reductions in train service to be made, beginning August 22, are the consolidation of two trains between Omaha and North Platte and two others running from North Platte to Omaha.

EIGHT KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW LONDON (Ct.) Aug. 20.—Eight persons were kill when a locomotive struck an automobile at the ferry crossing Saybrook, on the New Haven Railroad, late tonight. There we nine passengers in the car. The one surviving member of party, a young girl, is so shocked she is not able to tell who were surviving to the contraction of the car.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Divisions of the Navy League and the Daughters of the American Revolution, under whose auspices some 300,000 men and women have been supplying comfort garments and articles to the navy, were notified today of new channels through which their contributions may be received,

Department has been completely severed as a result of the controversy between the league headquarters and Secretary Daniels.

The notice was in the form of a letter from Robert M. Thompson, president, to the woman's section and Comforts Com-DRAFT LAW UPHELD and its local organizations.
"It is unimportant through what channels the garments reach the soldiers, but it is important that they shall receive them," said the letter, directing garments intended for the men of the United States Navy be sent to Mrs. James Carroll Frazer, No. 1316 Sixteenth street, Washington, D. WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Preliminary steps toward providing the navy with as many additional destroyers as American plants can turn out were taken up by Secretary Daniels today at a conference with more than a score of shipbuilders, engine makers and representatives of other industries.

Information was submitted by the builders as to what they could do in the way of expanded facilities. Navy officials will study the reports and suggest a definite plan for the accomplishment of their purpose, which is to make the United States first in destroyers, the arch-enemy of the submarine.

The destroyer has proved itself by experience the most efficient U-boat hunter because of its speed and seagoing qualities. MT. AIRY (Ga.) Aug.

vision, Gen. Petain said they had rendered a notable service both to France and to America, and that their battalions had become sister battalions to the American contingent. The Americans, he added, had expressed the hope that some day they would have the privilege of fighting alongside their French instructors and of proving what apt pupils they can be.

Gen. Petain spoke of the elan of the chasseurs, of the high morale of the French army they represented and recalled to them that their duty was always to inculcate this morale in their fellow-divisions.

Santa Monica Ocean Park WILL ANNEX ISSUE CLEAR CUT

Bar-rooms, drinking-dancing cafes, gamblers, dens of vice, allied with the political job holders and a few old politicians,

Make a clean sweep of them all.

Santa Monica and Ocean Park have been going down.
Not a new home being built in town.
More than a thousand people moved away past air months. Population decreased. Property value decreased.
School attendance decreased. Rents decreased.

Not enough water—bad water. Fear another million dollar fire. Everybody knows we must annex to get water.
WHY DENY—WHY DELAY?

Too much sewerage.
Too much gambling, bar-rooms, dancing-drinking cafes.
'Annex—close them. Move sewer to Hyperion.

Everybody who don't sell booze, run skin games, hold or expect fat political jobs, or live off public printing

WILL VOTE YE

Santa Monica has:

Too high taxes;

Too high assessed valuation;

Too high water, light, gas, insurance rates—driving people away—stopping people from coming here to build homes, apartments, hotels.

Our beautiful pier cannot be made a success with sewerage.

2200 legal registered voters signed the petition forcing Commissioners to call this election.

90 per cent. of the taxpayers are in favor of annexation.

We don't need any bone-dry election. Annex and Los Angeles will clean them up.

Annexation will win. Make it overwhelming.

VOTE YES

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. can easily be used at triffing expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrex (which you can get at any druggists) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural colling.

GANG OF SAFE-CRACKERS MAKES DOWNTOWN RAID.

SIMILARITY of methods employed and the apparent likeness of the fingerprints obtained by E. N. Sanders, the police department identification bureau's expert, last night convinced the detectives assigned to the case that a raid on safes in downtown office buildings yesterday morning were carried out by a gang of yeggmen working simultaneously, but under one directions.

Five safes were damaged and two of them were entered, and a half-dozen offices were ransacked by the thieves in their raid on the Van Nuys, Douglas and the Waiter P. Story buildings during the early morning hours. Detectives Newstetter, Barr, James and Profitt, who answered the calls following the discovery of the crimes, were kept bury gathering what little evidence was left behind and checking up the known losses.

oft behind and checking up the newn losses.

Using pass keys, the police believe, he yeggmen gained entrance to the lossly-guarded Van Nuys Building and got into the offices of the Patton Davies Lumber Company, room 14. There, without the use of excessives, they forced the combination sebs and opened the safe, obtaining best $300 in eash. Combination umbers obtained in this safe gave an access to the second eafe, in the ster office, where they got $122 d some jewelry.

In the Douglas Building, Third and ving streets, thieves entered the loss of the California Portland Centre of the Second eafe, but were shread away. The third known

One trouble with the I.W.W. is that hay are too much like the straying bandits a Mexico. Each Individual Wonder of the Vorid wants to be a leader. Not one of hem wants to be bossed by anything or nybody, yet none of them is capable of elf-government. THE LAWS OF WAR FOR INDUSTRIAL TRAITORS.

The United States government is sparing no effort to smash Germany, but has healtated to punish its own citizens who aid the enemy, though they have a national organization and in the last forty-eight hours have been apprehended in the act of calling a general strike of all construction and agricultural workers in four States.

tion and agricultural workers in four States.

It means something—is it an awakening?—that the Federal authorities have at last taken action in the I.W.W. insurrection at Seattle, whence the strike was to be called; but it will mean only added contempt for authority from the members of that band that is ever defiant of government if rigorous measures are not taken to fit the sternness of the times. Thousands of United States troops are in Europe; hundreds of thousands are on their way; our Allies are dependent upon us for food; and destitution is a dread the tolling families of our country face; yet this anarchistic organization, as though commissioned and hired by the Kaiser-himself—as it may be—plans to destroy by wastage the food supplies coming from the rich States of Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho, A few weeks ago this organization was caught in a plot to fire the grain fields of South Dakota. It has stirred strikes in the mining districts, on railroads and on wharves, being in many, if not most, instances assisted by the Federation of Labor.

It is very well to malayer, powwow.

instances assisted by the Federation of Labor.

It is very well to palaver, pow-wow, jockey and handle such trouble with woolen mittens in times of peace, when the delay and laxness mean nothing but a loss of money and self-respect, the bludgeoned heads of many and the loss in life of some free workers and general agitation and encouragement among the dark forces of anarchy. But in time of war such delay, loss and encouragement create a menace that cannot be exaggerated.

This is war, and our government must fight it as war is fought or tell France, Belgium, England, Italy, Serbia, Romania and Russia and our own troops overseas that, owing to certain agitations and violence among the I.W.W.'s, we will not be able to furnish ships, munitions, ore, clothing and food in the quantities or with the promptness expected. Our government may express itself as exceedingly sorry and of being as realous and eager as ever to knock the Germans about and kill them off, but because a certain James Rowan and William Morin, a certain Haywood and Moyer, together with a fellow named Sam Gompers, have decided that their own labor grievances, or pretended grievances, warrant interferences with the work of war, our government has not found it convenient to live up to its obligations to its allies, its troops abroad or its citizens at home.

But if our government fully realizes that

But if our government fully realizes that it is at war and that an industrial traitor is as dangerous and dastardly as a military traitor, then it will lift the sword drawn against Germany and all who aid Germany and will put to the death these leaders of industrial sedition. Our government is in this war now because Germany thought we could be bluffed. Strikes fill the country and more are planned and talked of, because I.W.W.'s and their lik think the government can be bluffed. Too long has it been sluggish and healtant. These internal dangers grow with each hour of delay. Strikers, traitors, slackers, deserters and those treacherously gleaning gold from the Kalser must be warned into inaction and into at least the semblance of loyalty. Quick and stern execution of ringleaders in every disloyal and treasonable uprising will insure peace within the country while we are war without.

Punish traitors according to the laws of war. Lead aim for!

DSYCHOLOGY OF THE DRAFT.

PSYCHOLOGY OF THE DRAFT.

So far the results of mobilizing an American army by the use of the draft can hardly be said to come up to the expectations of the United States War Department. For this the people are not responsible, nor the civil authorities working under unusual difficulties. Indeed, the first steps in the draft proceedings are little more than an extension of the volunteer system, with this difference—they compel the youth of the country to declare by affidavit whether they are willing to fight in a foreign country for the honor of the fiag. Of course the appellate courts may considforeign country for the honor of the flag. Of course the appellate courts may considerably change these conditions.

Psychology is playing an important part in the general attitude of American citizens toward the universal-service principle. The answer of one drafted man, who put in no exemption ples, probably sums up the unexpressed feelings of many who still hestiate to answer the call to arms if they can legally find a way out.

Asked why he was so willing to obey the draft summons, while he had shown no disposition to volunteer his services, he replied that he had been taught so long and so thoroughly the necessity of being absolutely neutral toward the cause and the objects of the European war that he found it difficult all in a moment to reverse that mental attitude. Amplifying his statement, he mentioned the torpedoing of statement, he mentioned the torpedoing of the Lusitania, which at the time roused him to the fighting point. But he noticed him to the fighting point. But he noticed how officially the event was carefully referred to as a disaster, not as a crime. In moving-picture theaters, too, the public was advised by the express desire of the President to make no demonstrations when war pictures were being shown. So his sympathies for the cause championed by the Allies was dampened and smothered. This strictly neutral frame of mind and heart was so thoroughly hammered into the consciousness of the American people over the lot of the loved ones left behind going to prove less sterling in fighting a courageous fight for the honor of the flag.

Add to this selftiment the psychological effect of nearly three years of enforced neutrality and one can better understand why the list of those claiming exemption is six times as long as the list of those who don't.
The perils and risks to which this con try would be subjected in the event of a decisive victory for Prussian militarism had long been foreseen by the leaders in Washington. But during the neutral pe-riod no inking had been allowed to reach the masses of the people. International law forbade it. Not till the President was compelled to ask Congress to declare a state of war against Germany did the people realise fully that the Allies were in the right and that Germany was in the wrong. Not till then did the sinking of the Lusitania cease to be a disaster and become an atrocity.

So the inevitable break came with a So the inevitable break came with a shock to the bulk of the nation. One hundred million minds cannot get the new point of view so quickly as the few inspired brains, wise before the event. They, indeed, had been expecting it and dreading it and working incessantly to stave it off—but the people did not know.

Taking all these things into considera-tion, the response made by the nation to the President's call to arms has been mag-nificent. And not the least inspiring fea-ture of the spectacle has been the un-studied patriotism of the grand old Repub-lican party. For, notwithstanding the na-ture of the chief plank by which the Presi-test objected he realection, notwithstand ture of the chief plank by which the President obtained his re-election; notwithstanding the persistent exclusion of their own best and most capable leaders from the war Cabinet of the nation; notwithstanding the obvious partisanship that retains two incompetents at the head of the Army and Navy departments, the Old Guard of America has unbastisation? hands of the President in every drastic war measure, seeing only the need of pre-senting a combined front to the common foe, pledged to only one present object— the complete vindication of the cause backed by the prestige and the honor of the invincible Stars and Stripes.

This greater psychology that can place country before any other claim or consid-eration is already offsetting the former ration is already offsetting the former

ET BIG BUSINESS THRIVE.
The slackers and pacifists, the Stones
d Works and La Pollettes and Vardamans and O'Connells and I.W.W. leaders and soap-box orators are making the air fetid with their denunciations of President Wilson for what they call his render to big business."

All this because President Wilson has publicly demanded "a just price for every-thing the government burs, a price which will avaitate the industries concerned in a will sustain the industries concerned in a high state of efficiency, provide a living for high state of emciency, provide a living for those who conduct them, enable them to pay good wages and make possible the ex-pansions of their enterprises which will, from time to time, become necessary as the stupendous undertaking of this great war develops."

Why not? War has been forced upon us by the Hohenzollerns. We have made a war loan of three billion dollars to the Al-lies and must, in our own defense, loan them as much more, besides expending an equal sum preparing for and conducting our own defense.

This vast expenditure for war purposes necessitates the levying of war taxes which must be paid mainly by the business men of the land. They must be paid out of the profits of their business, and with no war profits of their outsiness, and with no war profits there will be no war taxes. Senator Lodge wisely said: "You are not going to get the money to run this war if you are going to kill business. You cannot raise taxes unless you have something to tax. Let private business make all it can POST-BELLUM EXPORT TRADE

One very marked effect of the war will be that countries will have become much more self-supporting and self-contained. There is likely to be a big slump in general export trade and home markets everywhere will have become stronger.

During these submarine days Great Britain, the biggest importer of the world under her free-trade policy, is laboriously learning how to supply her own markets. And her new patent law, instituted shortly before the war, by which patents were only granted when the article was manufactured within the country, had already considerably accelerated home industries. And the exigencies of war taxation have largely broken down Britain's faith in free trade, for which the majority in Parliament had been gradually dwindling ever since the Liberals have been in office.

Of course, there will always be exports and importa, but the crisis in the shipping world has absolutely compelled the least enterprising countries to look to their own supplies. Even the neutrals have found the undestrability of relying too much on imports and the United States itself has undertaken the manufacture and supply of a thousand commodities that were formerly imported.

Under the circumstances the importance of the home market and home industries everywhere will be recognized. Export trade will become a matter of national pride to keep the imports down, for each country to be as independently self-supporting as possible. The very fact that it will take many and more lofty than ever. Joseph Cham-berlain's scheme for free trade within the British empire and a high tariff against all other countries is likely to be adopted in a very large measure. Certainly the over-seas dominions of the empire are all agreed on advantageous preferential tariffs within the empire, if not actually free trade. Britain's defection from her age-old pol-icy of free trade under these circumstances will probably affect the United States more than any other country. It will be vastly important to this country that we maintain dominance of our home markets, that home industries receive every encouragement, that habor and capital co-perate to this end. Nothing could be more unfortunate for this country's trade after the war than a weak administration playing into the hands of diagrantied agitators and dabbling in cheap politics to the detriment of home industries. Capital and enterprise must positively feel secure that the ad-ministration will support them in all their legitimate fields of industry, and labor must positively rest content with the knowledge that it can rely upon a square deal from the state without resorting to violence and crime.

After the war, with all the manho the world back at productive labor, food cannot fail to become pientiful and cheap. And the slackening of food exports from cannot rall to become pientiful and cheap.

And the slackening of food exports from this country is inevitable under the loxical self-supporting era. It will therefore take every ounce of united co-operation and enterprise of which this country is capable to maintain wages and profits at their present standard. All the strikes in the world cannot keep up the waxe scale unless business warrants, it. And it is small comfort to be able to buy cheap if one has out the wherewithal.

Our home market, with our 100,000,000 Our home market, with our 100,000,000 population, is a strong and profitable one. With native enterprise and a sound, wise administration at the helm, there is no reason why the American standard of living and prosperity should not be comfortably maintained. But with union-labor strikes and a weak administration, God help us! RIPPLING RHYMES.

AT A SUMMER RESORT.

This is the playground of the land, where I have pitched my tent; and tourists throng on every hand, on wholesome pleasure bent. They climb the hills and fish the streams and in the caverns play, and I hear their whoops and screams throughout the livelong day. There lives near me a sad-eyed seer, who views the joyous throng and wipes away a bitter tear and sighs both loud and long. "Have they no hearts!" the seer exclaims; "what are they laughing for? Have all those giddy men and dames forgotten we're at war? They balance on a mountain's brink and leer at those below; oh, tell me, do they never think of war and all its woe? They chase the fleeing mountain sheep as though they had no care; oh, tell me, de they never weep for war and its despair?" "Oh, graybeard seer," I make reply, "there's time enough to weep, so let them scale the mountains high and chase the goats and sheep. There's always time enough for tears, a place for those who whine; and I grow sick of grouchy seers who always call for brins. Of sobs and sorrew I grow sick, of snivel and of snift, so pray excuse me if I kick your person down this cliff."

PICKETETTES AND PARDON

PICKETETTES AND PARDON

The picketetes who were sent to the workhouse, the sixteen sweet suffrageties, were pardoned by the President for behavior unbecoming American women. Just as though pardon, even from so high an authority, could, without immediate reform, help the situation.

If public condemnation could convince those good ladies of the utter venality disclosed in their unreasonable and persistent picketing of the White House grounds them they are at last convinced.

The New American Woman tried to persuade the eastern suffragists of the damage they possibly might do to a righteous cause, but good advice had no hearing when eves and ears were bent on self-laudation, newspaper exploitation, etc.

They thought such foolhardiness meant their marty-dom in the interests of the Federal suffrage amendment, whereas it merely delayed its passage.

It was disclosed that several of the pardoned picketettes had young children at home who greatly needed their mothers, and so, too, it appears that several of these "immortals" respectively happened to possess husbands who, as American gentlemen, would be expected to act, sought President Wilson's pardon, that the little children might not suffer for their mothers' foolishness.

The telegraph dispatches reported den, that the little children might not suffer for their mothers' foolishness.

The telegraph dispatches reported renewed activity of the picketettes, but subsequently, it is reported, the newspapers agreed among themselves that no further notice would be given them and this fact has removed the real attraction of picketing the White House.

These ardent out-of-season advocates of a cause that is won by all the rules of the game boidly pretended that they did not want to be pardoned—and yet they winced over the smallest discomfort—sans their silk hosiery, their tooth brushes and folderfoldes, sans everything which women of so much leisure and so little sense; generally, in common with other people, must needs have if they would be sanitary.

Vale, picketettes! The New American Woman hopes we shall not have to look upon your like again.

BUNK(ER) BITS.

Before becoming an expert golfer, come a matter of national pride to keep the imports down, for each country to be as independently self-supporting as possible. The very fact that it will take many years to restore the shipping facilities to a reasonable and profitable basis will in itself foster home production in all countries. With a scarcity of ships, ocean trade must necessarily remain expensive for some time to come.

And there is not the slightest doubt that protective tariffs will become more general and more loss at the stands and it made us go back too many times to start the game all over again to make sure we weren't cheating ourselves out of anything. several years ago, we were having

Quickly we awung the club down off our left shoulder, with three hundred yards of first-class driving force behind it. We missed the ball and our club at the same time, and little prickles came out on top of our head thicker than stars on a June night. Reading our mind, our help

In our machine shops and furnaces and forges and shipyards is made everything from a hairpin to a steamship; and there is not a tissue of cotton, woolen or sifk, from a speoi of thread to a carpet, that is not made in our factories.

Great Britain, through her colonies in every part of the world, enjoys to a certain extent similar advantages, but her ships cross oceans to obtain what in this country may be procured by crossing a river. It may be predicted that the Allies will never consent to a peace that will never consent to a peace that will never consent to a peace that will neable Germany to have a few years' profitable rest to prepare for another world contest, and that Chancellor Lloyd George will never be calcied or intimidated into arreeing to terms that will welcome yescotted the snake" of Prussian antocracy without killing it.
